(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
RALEIGH, N. C., Oct. 15.—Four unknown parties entered the town of Springhope yesterday morning about 3 o'clock and attempted to blow open the safe of the bank. They made six explosions of dynamite and were frightened off just as they were about to get the safe open. One, Dave Tildie, is said to have been caught by the burglars' standing guard and was bound and gagged as the work proceeded.

Governor Aycock is not expected to return to Raleigh until Friday. He will be in Norfolk to-morrow attend the meeting of business men in the interest of the great Jamestown Exposition.

Quite a number of visiting clergy took part in the ceremonies. The bishop in an address reviewed the past decade in the diocese reported 4,000 services held, 1,400 sermons preached, 500 deacons delivered, 4,440 persons confirmed, 27 churches and chapels consecrated and 27 persons ordained. There are now 50 clergy, 170 parishes and missions and 5,000 communicants in the diocese. Archbishop E. A. Osborne, of Charlotte, delivered a beautiful congratulatory address to the bishop on the part of the clergy.

THE GREENSBORO FAIR

Immense Crowds Attend the Splendid Exhibit.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

GREENSBORO, N. C., Oct. 15.—The biggest crowd ever seen at the fair grounds was there yesterday, at least eleven thousand people being present.

To-day being considered by the public the big day of the fair, an enormous crowd came in on special excursion trains from every direction until it really seemed that fifteen thousand people have gathered here to see the fine exhibit, the races, and each other.

All who have attended the fair say the exhibits are fine and they do not hesitate to say that they are the largest and best ever seen here.

This is said to be the largest poultry exhibit ever made in the South, there being 325 entries.

The capacity for the live stock exhibit has been enlarged since last year, but the buildings are still too small to accommodate all exhibitors. There are several entries of cattle from Illinois.

The Greensboro Electric Company broke the record yesterday for hauling people. They hauled over thirteen thousand people.

This is the largest number of people ever hauled by the street car company here in one day.

One of the regular dances given here during fair week took place at the Benbow Hall last night. An enormous crowd was in attendance, and it was quite a brilliant affair.

Dr. A. L. Stratford, for twenty-one years of Richmond, Va., is here attending the reunion. He is the youngest of seven brothers, five of whom were in the Confederate army, and all yet living. The oldest of the seven, Mr. W. D. Stratford, of Randleman, is also here.

OFFICERS NOT LIABLE FOR THE INCOME TAX

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
RALEIGH, N. C., Oct. 15.—An elaborate opinion delivered to-day the Supreme Court rules in the case of Judge Thomas R. Purnell vs. Sheriff Page, of Wake county, that judges of the United States and State Courts and executive officers of the respective governments are not liable for the State tax on incomes, their reason being chiefly that "power to tax includes the power to destroy," and if a State were allowed to tax a United States officer one dollar, it might tax him a full amount of his salary and thus arrest all the measures of government.

ATTEMPT TO DYNAMITE COAST LINE TRAIN

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
WILMINGTON, N. C., Oct. 15.—It is reported that a few days ago there was an attempt to dynamite passenger train No. 30 of the Atlantic Coast Line, between Savannah and Charleston, by unknown persons. It is stated that a section master found three sticks of dynamite in close succession on the track near the falls and it is evident that the explosives were placed on the rails and were jarred off by the train before reaching them. Had the passenger struck the dynamite it would more than likely have been totally destroyed.

Train No. 30 is a big money run and the work of dynamiting it had succeeded in their effort, they might have enriched themselves by thousands of dollars. Detectives are working on the case.

Tribute to Col. Murphy.

Regarding the approaching marriage of Colonel John Murphy and Charlotte (N. C.) News of October 14th says:

Now this is a very interesting news item for thousands of people in North Carolina. Colonel Murphy is the owner and proprietor of Murphy's Hotel at Richmond, Va., is prominently known to as many as the traveling people, especially drummers as any man in the United States. Then, too, he has always, on big Confederate occasions in his city, been a member of the big crowd of reception and entertainment, and entertained many Tar Heels. He came out of the war with several bullet holes in his person, but he has buckled down to work, and is now quite a wealthy man. Colonel Murphy is a past commander of the R. E. Lee Camp Confederate Veterans, of Richmond. He has been married before and has several children and grandchildren, but looks not to be any over fifty years of age. His intended bride is a lady of lovely character and is many years his junior.

ALLEGES CRUELTY TO THE NEGROES

Attempt to Make Rusk County, Texas, a White Man's County.

(By Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, ILL., October 15.—A special to the Record-Herald from Austin, Texas, says:

General Webster Flannagan, United States collector of internal revenue from this district, has appealed to Governor Lanham, asking that the State render protection to the negroes of Rusk county and aid in bringing to justice the white men guilty of torturing to death two innocent negroes.

General Flannagan, who has just returned from Rusk county, says all publication of news of the horrible treatment of the negroes has been suppressed. He made the following statement:

"No one can portray the cruelties to which the negroes of Rusk county have been subjected. If the State does not take prompt action, I shall appeal to the Federal authorities. A few nights before my arrival two of the most peaceable and inoffensive negroes were stripped and tied to trees, and then whipped. One of the negroes died Saturday night, and the other cannot recover. They want to make it a white man's county."

THE MEMORY OF SHERMAN

An Equestrian Statue Unveiled in Washington.

SPEECH BY MR. ROOSEVELT

The President Was the Orator of the Day—The Unveiling Made the Occasion of a Brilliant Parade.

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—With impressive ceremonies an equestrian statue of William Tecumseh Sherman was unveiled here this afternoon in the presence of official Washington, the President at its head, and thousands of veterans, members of the societies of Armies of the Tennessee, the Cumberland, the Ohio and the Potomac. As the two large flags enveloping the statue were drawn aside by William Tecumseh Sherman Thorndyke, the nine-year-old grandson of the dead chieftain, the cannon of the Fourth Artillery boomed a salute and the Marine Band struck up the Star Spangled Banner.

Success marked every detail of the ceremonies, which were in charge of Colonel T. W. Symons, superintendent of public buildings and grounds.

REVIEWED THE TROOPS.

Before the unveiling of the statue, the President and Lieutenant-General S. B. M. Young, chief of the general staff of the army, reviewed the troops parading in the dedication parade from the stand opposite the statue. The President delivered the address of the day. A representative from each of the societies of the four armies followed in eulogies of General Sherman.

The address was introduced by General Dodge. As he arose the veterans gave him round after round of cheers. The President's speech was frequently interrupted with applause. The President said:

"The President spoke in part as follows:

"To-day we meet together to do honor to the memory of one of the great men whom, in the hour of our agony, our country sprang forward with such gallant and self-sacrificing valor to defend our rights. The Civil War was not only in the importance of the issues at stake and of the outcome in the great struggle of the nation, but it was also, taking into account its duration, the severity of the fighting, and the size of the army, one of the greatest battles of modern times.
